Once upon a time there were a great many story tellers around here about who had the biggest finger out to where with a little effort here & there we would all join hands in lovin' understandin' with all th' other people around th' world and as th' ol' Fairy Tale used to wind up-we would all live happily ever after and there would only be peace, goodwill and understandin' all over th' place.

Natchally, these wide eyed innocents have these human emotions as kuman nature and there are still a good many of these folks kinkin' around today who think there really sint any criminals at large that th' probblem is every thing from th' environmint to th' hard heartedness of folks who don't like to be mugged, slugged, murdered or robbed

Wilson Food Corp., of Oklahoma. City filed for reorganization under Chapter 11 of the Federal Bankruptcy Code April 22, and last week stock values were fell in the livestock and commodities trades. Some observers felt the situation would add heavy pressure to pork and hog prices and it has been reported the company had a rather extreme long position in the futures trade.

Product shipments to customer service are scheduled to continue uninterrupted. All bills of lading and existing payment commitments," Griggy said.

Beginning May 1, seven lamb marketing points in Texas will initiate a voluntary 10 cent per head checkoff program that will support lamb promotion and market development programs conducted by the Lamb Committee of the Meat Board and the National Lamb Feeders Assn.

Such information is being supplied to those producers in the area who have many production options available to farmers and ranchers," Murfield added.

The confidential interviews, conducted by mail or in person by field enumerators, can also help producers in planning their production and marketing programs for the coming year.

Marketing points agreeing to the May 1 start-up date are Producers Livestock Auction, Compton Livestock Co., Junction Stockyards Inc., Mason Auction Co. Fed Cattle, Hogs Were Very Uneven In Monday Trade

At the central markets on Monday fed cattle moved in a very uneven pattern with some points recording losses and others with some gain. Market supplies were lighter and the estimated cattle slaughter was 4,000 larger than the same day last week and the same margin higher than a year earlier. Early reports on the carcass beef trade indicated some strengthening following last week's declines. Slaughter cows and bulls were in better demand; some markets reporting sharp advances on cows and bulls were largely steady to $1 higher here and there.

Butcher hogs found a mixed bag also, with advances and declines well mixed. Market supplies were about 4,500 under a week ago, but the estimated hog kill for Monday was 308,000, or are you listening?

Opportunities always exist, even in economically tough times like we're facing today. The difference now is that survival may depend on finding those opportunities and taking advantage of them.

One opportunity that cattlemen should capitalize on is crossbreeding. By crossbreeding, a cattleman can reap the benefits from both selection and hybrid vigor.

The cattleman can select for traits that will match his available resources, traits that will make his operation more cost efficient and traits that the packer and consumer are looking for. The genetic improvement just from crossing two breeds is like an added bonus.

When considering breeds for your crossbreeding program, there is one you shouldn't overlook. A breed that offers these extras:

- Calving Ease
- Heavy Weaning Weights
- Carcasses that yield an abundance of lean, red meat with very little fat
- Easy-keeping cows that won't eat you out of house and home

When times get tough, don't let opportunities pass you by.

McDougle/Roberts Sale To Feature Audio-Visual Presentation

Longhorn cattle, mariachi music and the wizardry of video tape will highlight the first annual McDougle/Roberts Hill Country Invitational Longhorn Sale at the ballroom in the La Mansion Del Norte Hotel in San Antonio, May 19, at 7 p.m.

Top of the breed longhorn cattle will be featured in the sale, according to sponsors Mel McDougle and John Roberts of San Antonio and premier consignee DeWitt Meshell of Houston. Guest consignors from all of South Texas will also be represented at the sale.

Longhorn sales are not uncommon among cattle breeders in Texas, but audio-visual productions at the sales are, according to McDougle. The Hill Country Invitational Sale will feature audio-visual presentations on each of the ranchers' cattle breeding operations.

"Most Longhorn breeders know one another but usually aren't familiar with their associates' cattle and ranching programs," said McDougle. "This presentation will inform everyone not only about the particular cow up for auction but will also shed some light on the breeder's ranching activities."

Texas Markets Join In Lamb Promotion

10 cent per head investment to support lamb research and meat information programs designed to help increase consumer demand for lamb. Included are projects such as research on restructured lamb products, nutrient composition data on lamb retail cuts, publication of full-color wall and notebook lamb cut identification charts and distribution of additional lamb information to consumers.

"There are many ways we can help increase consumer demand for lamb," said Jamie R. Kothmann, vice chairman, Meat Board Lamb Committee, "but we need money to do it, and I'm glad to see these seven Texas markets take the initiative and start a checkoff program that has great potential for revenue development. These funds will go a long way toward helping us 'get the word out' about lamb."

"But our work is far from done. Although we're extremely pleased to have such prestigious markets participating in our program, there are many more markets and lamb producers that need to be brought aboard so we can conduct more extensive lamb research, and meat information programs on behalf of the lamb industry."

The Meat Board's lamb checkoff is part of the sheep and lamb industry's coordinated program of work.

In addition, the company said that it has sufficient cash and credit resources to meet needs in the foreseeable future. Although we deeply regret the necessity of taking this action, Griggy said, "None of the remedial steps we have discussed with the UFCW were acceptable to them. Alternatives proposed by Wilson Foods included: a profit-sharing plan in return for wage concessions, an employee stock ownership plan, and a lump sum payment to employees to buy out the burdensome terms of the contract. Reorganization is absolutely necessary to insure our survival as a company."

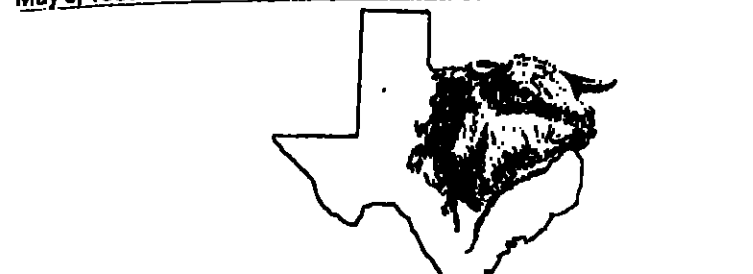

We are emphatically not going out of business, but our union leaders must understand we simply cannot continue under the existing competitive disadvantage. The company's goal is to win a critical battle to save everyone's jobs. Our competitive cost position in the industry has eroded rapidly in the past few months. Under our current union contract, we just cannot process hogs at a production cost level competitive enough to maintain adequate gross margins to keep our company alive."

As previously reported, the company had a loss of $2,800,000 on sales of $2,800,000,000 for the first six months of fiscal 1983. This downward trend has accelerated dramatically in recent months, the company said, and the estimate for the third quarter ending April 30, is a net loss of over $17,000,000.

"Since going public in 1981, Wilson Foods' primary challenge has been to bring labor costs in line and regain a competitive position in the industry," Griggy stated. He said the company started this process by negotiating a wage freeze in December, 1981, which also suspended cost-of-living adjustments for 44 months. During that time, Griggy said, the union expected to bring the wage and benefit package of competitors up to Wilson Foods' levels. "However, that clearly has not happened. In fact, the union has actually negotiated wage reductions for some competing companies."

"At this point, we strongly believe—and financial projections indicate—that our very survival depends on our employees making sacrifices today to make their jobs secure tomorrow. Salaried employees are taking a reduction in pay ranging from a 40% reduction of my own compensation to lower percentage decreases for other salaried personnel. Hourly wages and benefits also will be adjusted downward to levels that are competitive."

"In return for the reduction of wages and benefits, the company is committed to offering a salary employees participate in a substantial profit-sharing plan, which will allow them to share in a meaningful way in the future financial success of the company. We look forward to negotiating new contracts with the union. Griggy concluded."

Bud Snidow Hangs 'Em Up After 32 Hereford Years

Kansas City—B.C. "Bud" Snidow, a leading Hereford industry figure for over 32 years, retired from his position as Director of Breed Activities and Assistant Secretary of the American Hereford Association on April 16.

In announcing the retirement, H.H. Dickenson, Executive Vice President of the AHA, said, "Probably no one in the history of the breed has had closer contact with and been friends with more Hereford breeders than has Bud. His calm nature, willingness to listen to the problems of others, friendly attitude and overall knowledge of the industry has endeared him to all cattlemen."

Snidow joined the American Hereford Association as eastern field representative in 1951 moving to the AHA's Kansas City headquarters in 1955. In 1961, he was appointed the AHA's Assistant Secretary. His duties as Assistant Secretary included the registry process, field services, shows, foreign exports, and directing many various breed activities.

With the some 52 1/2 years of service, Snidow has served the AHA and its members longer than any other employee in an administrative position in the Association's history.

As one tribute to his long service, the 1983 American Royal Register of Merit Hereford Show has been designated the "Bud Snidow Royal."

Positive First Quarter Report Issued By BBU

Beefmaster Breeders Universal has released a first quarter report that shows record increases in membership, non-member buyers and inquiries. Approval of 171 new members was given by BBU board of directors during the first quarter; forty-eight more were approved in April for a record total of 219 since January first.

Eighty-seven and one-half percent of the 1982 membership met the April first dues deadline for a total of 2,068. This represents a twenty-five percent increase in membership over last April.

New non-member buyers from twenty-one states have been recorded by BBU since the beginning of the year. The 819 new buyers have not been previously listed on computer. Top states include: Texas, Alabama, Florida, Tennessee, Louisiana, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Georgia, Arkansas and California respectively. This represents a thirty-seven percent increase in new non-member buyers over the same period in 1982.

BBU has responded to 1,811 inquiries received from 44 states, Mexico, Central and South America. This is a 400 percent increase over the same period last year.

"Only one other statistic says more than these," said Gene Kuykendall, executive vice president of BBU, "and that's the average on our commercial bulls. In seven bull sales during the first quarter, commercial producers paid $1,501 for 624 (registered) commercial bulls, and that's a strong average on that many bulls. As long as we're doing that, the rest will come."

Tour Of Beefmaster Ranches Scheduled By LCBBA, BBU

A tour of Beefmaster ranches in South Texas have been scheduled by Live Oak County Beefmaster Breeders Association May 19 and 20, 1983. The tour, co-sponsored by Beefmaster Breeders Universal, is the first one for the breed.

The tour is being paid for by participating members of LCBBA, and is open to purebred and commercial producers. "We've been thinking about having tours for sometime now," said Gene Kuykendall, executive vice president of BBU, "and the obvious place to start is in Live Oak County where the greatest concentration of Beefmasters are today. It's a good opportunity to broaden communication and understanding between our purebred breeders and the commercial producers. We hope both will participate."

Ranch stops include Leon Lankford Beefmasters, Sandia; Pete Murphy Beefmasters, Alice; Edwin Singer Ranch, Three Rivers; Don Moore Beefmasters, George West; John Walder Ranch, Tynan; Ed Wicker Beefmasters, Beeville; The South Texas Children's Home, Pettus; and Joe Yarbrough Ranch, Three Rivers.

In addition, cattle will be displayed by members of LCBBA at the Live Oak County Barn between Three Rivers and George West. Beefmasters will be displayed by Fred Brauchle, J.B. Kuhl, Stewart Brothers, Wayne Bowers, Sherri Mills, Leo Jasik, Palmer Brothers, William McQuary, and Raymond Wieding. Each breeder will have a brief period to talk about his cattle during the event.

The tour will begin on May 19th in Corpus Christi. The bus will leave the Airport Hilton Inn at 7:00 a.m. and return there at the end of the tour on May 20th. For additional information on the tour schedule, hotel accommodations, and participating Beefmaster ranches, contact: BBU, 850 GPM S. Tower, 800 NW Loop 410, San Antonio, Tex. 78216, ph. 512/841-1277; or LCBBA, P.O. Box 1189, Three Rivers, Tex. 78071.

Commodities Comment

Week Ending April 28, 1983. Here we are at the end of April and in retrospect it has indeed been a pivotal month for futures prices. Many markets such as metals, grains, livestock, interest rates, currencies etc., have failed to hold their mid-month price levels. Actually the Dow Jones stock market continues to be the most "bullish" market around. The futures markets are like watching a school of fish. First, prices are here... then they're over there. Speculators are being carved up left and right. Recent action strongly suggests that prices across the futures board are headed lower near term.

The grain markets on the Chicago Board of Trade remain locked in a trading range. Everyone wants to be "bullish" due to the reduced acreage for new crop beans and corn. I guess that logic is correct. As long as there is a chance of a hot dry summer being short grains may be a tough thing to do. I still like the long side of new crop beans and meal but again only buy weakness. Every time you buy strength in these types of markets you end up being the

The precious metal market is still searching for a reason to go either up or down. Here's some reasons why I believe we're headed down for both gold and silver. I continue to detect rumblings that the Russians are selling silver and buying U.S. dollars. It's well known that they were aggressive sellers of gold at $500.00 per ounce in January/February. If these rumors prove correct (and I believe they are), metal prices could move sharply lower from current levels. Time will tell. At this writing June gold closed at $434.00, May silver $11.98, July platinum $423.00. If you would like further information on speculation or hedging please call Jerry F. Welch at 314-721-9200. Livestock Producers Should Be Alert For Screwworms

Livestock producers in this area need to add one more chore to their Springtime work: check your animals for screwworm infestations. Submit any suspected samples to the U.S. Department of Agriculture fly lab at Mission. Screwworm officials explain the only way in which they can know of any possible screwworm outbreaks in Texas is by livestock producers submitting suspected samples for verification. "Samples submission has increased some in recent weeks, but there is a need to continue and increase this," Dr. John W. Holcomb, executive director, Texas Animal Health Commission, Austin, said.

A total of 27 screwworm cases were confirmed in Mexico recently about 150 miles south of Reynosa, so it is important to continue to check for possible outbreaks in this area.

One undetected case of screwworms can spread rapidly. Sample kits for mailing the samples are available at county agent's offices, TABC area offices and other outlets. The samples if mailed in the kit require no postage.

Payment In Kind Assignments Explained

A producer earning payment in kind (PIK) under the new USDA program may assign to another the right to receive part or all of the commodity payment. As a result, banks may have assigned to them as collateral varying amounts of wheat, corn, sorghum, cotton and rice.

The following are highlights of the assignment rules sent to Agricultural Soil and Conservation Service offices.

The assignee, which could be a bank, must sign Commodity Credit Corp. form CCC-479 indicating acceptance of the assignment conditions, and cannot reassign the PIK commodities to another assignee.

One assignment may be for all the PIK due the assignor under PIK contracts. It must identify by source of the specific quantity due the assignor from (1) outstanding farm-stored loans, (2) outstanding warehouse-stored loans or (3) CCC inventory.

Except for cotton, only one assignment per entitlement is permitted. In the case of cotton, each individual warehouse receipt may be assigned. A producer may make separate assignments for PIK quantities due from any of the 8 sources.

Such changes must be requested before the notice of availability is issued.

After an assignment has been accepted, the county office can cancel the assignment only on written authorization of the assignee.

The assignor may, up to the end of the availability period for the crop, retain the right to choose the date the assigned PIK is made available to the assignee. Or the assignor may, within the same period, authorize the assignee or another person to choose the date when the crop will be made available, or redeem and sell to CCC loan quantities identified in the assignment to effect availability.

Two Champion Ropers Matched For Battle At Windy Ryon Roping

Two major beer companies will sponsor calf roping champs ROY COOPER and MIKE McLAUGHLIN in the "Battle of the Beers" match at the 10th Annual Windy Ryon Roping. The championship match highlights the invitational calf and steer roping, scheduled for May 27, 28 and 29 in Saginaw, Texas.

Budweiser and Miller Companies are sponsoring the match between Cooper and McLaughlin. The ropers will compete on 12 head of calves on Saturday. The two are top competitors in the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association. During the three-day event, select calf, steer and team ropers will compete for prize money and awards. An Open Daily Team Roping will be May 27 at 8:00 a.m. The invitational calf roping, May 28, begins at 1:00 p.m., and the steer roping is May 29 at 1:00 p.m.

The annual roping is sponsored in memory of a Fort Worth legend, Windy Ryon, the one-time proprietor of Ryon's Western Wear.

The Windy Ryon Roping Arena is located north of Fort Worth on loop 820 and the Saginaw Exit.

Best of Two Worlds Sale to Feature Imported Cattle

The E. O. Doggett Ranch will hold the "Best of Two Worlds" Sale Saturday, May 21 at the ranch. The ranch is located 17 miles south of Tyler. Sale time is set for 1:00 p.m.

The sale will feature the red Brahman of the United States and the imported pure Gir breed of Brazil. Headlining the sale will be the ranch's offering of the entire 1981 heifer crop. The heifers are sired by Everado 767, and many of these females are excellent prospects for top breeders in an embryo donor herd.

An extra special offering in the sale will be the first pure Gir heifer born from the ranch's embryo program. Also an interest in a pure Gir yearling heifer will be offered for sale. A few select Gir females have been held open, and breedings will be sold allowing the breeder to select the sire and dam.

"This is indeed a rare opportunity to combine the best of both worlds in any Brahman operation. The Everado 767 daughters are the most sought after red Brahman females, and the Gir influence will add a genetic boost to any herd," points out E. O. Doggett.

For more information, contact E. O. Doggett, Rt. 1, Bullard, TX 75757, or call (214) 825-3211.

Horse Short Course Is May 26-27

College Station—Horse enthusiasts will be treated to a wide range of activities at the 1983 Horse Short Course at Texas A&M University May 26-27.

Among those will be a session on management recommendations, a tour of Brazos County horse farms, a cutting horse training clinic, a horse sale and open cutting horse contests.

"This year's short course deals in all facets of the horse industry—production, management, training and use," says Dr. Doug Householder, horse specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. The Extension Service is conducting the short course in conjunction with Texas A&M's Department of Animal Science.

"We are combining some of the best of the horse production world with demonstrations and practical sessions," adds Householder. "The second day is designed to provide a complete A&M Animal Science Department's N.W. 'Dick' Arena. Mr. Freeman continues to work as well as at the Texas horse industry."

Discussions during the special session of the short course, which will be held Tuesday, May 26, will include the Hank Bird Quarter Horse and the Windham Ranch.

Butler Welch of Market, a professional horse trainer, will conduct Texas A&M's new livestock position horse clinic the first evening. The clinic will include live demonstrations on riding and training these horses, notes Householder.

The special Freeman Arena event Horse Sale will be the main event of the short course, which will begin with registration at 8:30 a.m. in the livestock pavilion. The sale is for a mixed set of about 60 yearlings and three-year-olds, and producers of fashionable cutting, race and performance breeding the Texas A&M herd as well as several prominent Texas horse owners.

The two-day program of activities will conclude with an NRECA Cutting Horse Association Cutting Horse Contest beginning at 5 p.m. Friday.

Registration information at Horse Short Course is available at any County Extension Office or Householder, Department of Animal Science, Texas A&M University, College Station, Tex. 77843.

Snaffle Bit Futurity Set

Fort Worth — The Second annual Snaffle Bit Futurity, sponsored by the Texas Refined Cattle Horse Association, will be held May 8-15 in Will Rogers Coliseum in Fort Worth. Total purse for the week-long, three-event contest will exceed $200,000 reports Jack Brainerd of Gainesville, TRCA president.

"A snaffle bit is a training bit, not generally considered a bit for an aged horse," Brainerd said. "Using the snaffle causes the rider to rely on direct rein contact and two-handed positioning."

Cutting, reining and working cattle on a fence and in the arena are the separate areas in which each horse entered in the futurity will compete. Horses are judged in each of the three events with a composite score determining the overall winner.

Prize money is allocated in each phase of the contest as well as in the average, or finals, competition. The futurity offers four divisions of non-professional, junior, first year, and open in which riders with various experience and eligibility may enter. The horses are four years old and have been trained with the snaffle bit and must compete while using it.

The snaffle bit phase of a young horse's training, according to Brainerd, stems from ancient tradition and gained prominence in the Southwest and Pacific Coast areas of the United States as the result of the skillful training of ranch horses by Mexican vaqueros. Brainerd said the Snaffle Bit Futurity was established to encourage and promote the versatile working horse, made famous in American legend and representative of Texas cattle ranching. "The objective outlined by the TRCA is to recognize horses that can profitably handle a variety of ranch jobs rather than only one," he added.

Tickets for the Snaffle Bit Futurity will be available in the lobby of the Coliseum, or by writing the Texas Refined Cattle Horse Association, RR #1, Box 297, Gainesville, TX 76240.

Highway System In Financial Crisis

Austin—Texas is the grip of a highway crisis that threatens the state's future and its citizens' ability to move about efficiently and safely, according to some state officials and the Texas Good Roads and Transportation Association (TGRA).

Rep. David Cain (D) of Dallas, House sponsor of legislation to ease the desperate situation, said that unless the Legislature provides adequate funding during the current legislative session, that the resulting damage to the roadways would be irreparable and Texas would diminish as an industrial leader and as a good place to live.

Cain and the TGRA have immediate concerns that the state cannot provide enough matching dollars to qualify for the maximum amount of federal funds available to Texas. Without these federal dollars even the interstate and U.S. highway systems would be threatened.

Without additional funding to the highways, millions of dollars in state projects will have to be cancelled just to provide the state's match for federal monies allotted to Texas.

Projects to ease the major traffic snarl in almost every urban area would not be built, and the farm to market system would continue to deteriorate.

Congress has passed a five-cent motor fuels tax increase. Texas will receive about $400 million more for highways annually. Those funds, however, are tagged for the interstate and U.S. highways. The state must also provide matching funds—from 10 percent to 25 percent for these projects.

That means that the state has less dollars to spend on its state highways and farm to market systems. Rep. Cain's bill is designed to provide $700 million annually for repair and improvement of the state system. Additionally, $100 million annually would be earmarked for city governments to repair and rehabilitate city streets.

TGRA has suggested that those funding needs should be met by those who use the highways. Among the alternatives suggested is a five cent hike in the motor fuel tax and increasing vehicle registration to $25 a year. The rise in the fuel tax would mean a motorist who drives 10,000 miles a year would pay about $100 in tax, compared to the $53 that has been paid since 1953.

"There are a number of ways the Legislature can provide the funds," Rep. Cain said, "but the one alternative we can't afford is to do nothing. We must fix our roads now or face disaster. The longer we wait the worse it becomes and the more costly it is to make repairs or reconstruct."

Treating Garbage Fed To Swine

College Station—Food waste to be fed to swine in Texas should be treated properly before feeding to prevent disease problems.

Dr. Bruce Lawhorn, swine veterinarian with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, says that recent regulations by the U.S. Department of Agriculture are designed to prevent the introduction and spread of domestic and foreign animal diseases through the feeding of raw or improperly treated food waste to swine. Foreign diseases such as hog cholera, African swine fever, foot-and-mouth disease or swine vesicular disease are real threats in the swine industry.

Regulations prohibit the feeding of garbage to swine unless heat treated at a licensed facility, says Lawhorn. Treatment consists of boiling food waste for at least 30 minutes.

Applicants for a license will have to demonstrate that their premises, facilities and equipment comply with the regulations. Facilities will have to be constructed to prevent access of swine to garbage handling and treating areas. And the garbage will have to be covered until treated. Regulations also spell out how licenses can be suspended or revoked.

Garbage is defined as all waste material derived from or associated with the meat of any animal, including fish and poultry, resulting from the handling and preparation of food. Food waste from ordinary household operations fed to swine on the same premises is exempt, notes Lawhorn.

While a number of states specifically prohibit the feeding of garbage to swine, the practice is permissible in Texas if the food waste is treated properly, says Lawhorn.

Screwworm Concern

Ten cases of screwworms in Mexico about 100 miles south of Reynosa again raises the necessity of livestock producers in this area to be on the lookout for possible screwworm infestations. There is a need for submission of screwworm samples by livestock producers now to the U.S. Department of Agriculture fly lab in Mission. Early detection of screwworm outbreaks is a must in the program to continue eradication of this pest. Mailing kits for submitting samples are available at county agent's offices, Texas Animal Health Commission area offices and other outlets.

by these natural born mean ones. Today th' One World is upon us. It ain't nuthin' like what those idealists had in mind. Th' One World bizness is strictly in bizness. American biznesses unfolded new frontiers in both developed and undeveloped countries and after th' initial efforts to gather up raw materials and bring 'em back home and then sell the finished products to other countries, they soon figured out that furrin labor was also a commodity that would make some money. This is where th' New One World comes in. Now those other countries are moving in on America the same way.

As you will note one of th' latest casualties in our industrial scene is th' Wilson Food Corp., th' story is on this page in this Weekly Livestock Reporter. It is an old story that is gittin' repeated 'bout every day. Our affluent Sassaety of workin' folks like you & me have jist about priced our selfs outta th' market in th' matter of costs of production. It has been evident to anyone who wanted to pay attention that our good ol' U.S.A. does not call th' tune for Furrin Countries any more. They jist thumb their noses at us and do as they dang well please and give us a good cussin' in th' process. Yep, that One World is here. It is now a fact that our money, our goods, our trade and our economic lives are tied up with th' rest of th' world and there aint any way to untangle th' mess.

It does look like we are makin' adjustments. It does look like our business and industry is goin' through a basic and fundamental change from top to bottom and while it aint gonna be very pleasant while th' process proceeds, we might as well face th' facts and th' sooner th' better, and we can git our wagon rollin' agin.

Ever thine,
The Edittar.

P.S.: Unkie Dunk notes where Texas Comptroller Bob Bullock has been complainin' that sales tax take has been shrinkin' and for that reason th' Legislature will not have as many billions to throw around as they hoped. However, Bob does now have a report out that says th' tax on likker by th' drink is still risin' and was up 2.7% in th' first quarter of this year. Jist goes to show you Texans may have some problems, but bendin' elbows aint one of 'em! -Thassall, Brothers!

Alaska Creates False Hope For Jobs

Juneau - The Alaska Department of Labor has issued a warning urging job seekers not to look to Alaska for work this summer season. Commissioner of Labor, Jim Robison, says, "There are no worker shortages in Alaska. Job seekers should be very wary of advertisements offering high paying jobs or Alaska job information for sale."

"Each year," Robison says, "many job seekers have based their decision to come north on inaccurate or incomplete information and find that no jobs are available in Alaska where their limited food and housing dollars disappear at an accelerated rate because the cost-of-living is high."

Alaska has not been immune to the economic downturn that has swept the nation. The Alaska unemployment rate for 1982 was 9.9%, remaining among the 20 states most severely afflicted by unemployment. Alaska's annual unemployment rates have exceeded the national average since the mid-1970's, and are expected to stay high during 1983. Some Alaska communities routinely experience seasonal unemployment rates of more than 20%.

Commissioner Robison says, "We welcome you to come and visit, but bring enough cash or a return ticket home so you do not run the risk of getting stranded."

The Alaska Natural Gas Pipeline Project, which has been under discussion for the past couple of years is indefinitely on "hold" due to the economic climate and high cost of construction.

Director Of Advertising Named For International Brangus Breeders

Joy Weinheimer was recently hired as the International Brangus Breeders Association (IBBA) director of advertising. This position was formed by the IBBA Board of Directors during the 34th annual convention to meet the expanding needs of the association.

Another topic will be cow-herd nutrition and forage production, which will be discussed jointly by Dr. David Bade, Extension forage specialist, and Sprout. Sprout will also talk about the selection and management of heifers, again using live cattle.

Registration fee for the clinic is $10, which includes lunch, refreshments and program materials.

Dr. Gary Smith, acting head of the Department of Animal Science at Texas A&M University, will then discuss what type of calf produces the most desirable carcass and which type is most useful in the total beef industry.

Following a barbecue lunch, cattle producers from the five sponsoring counties will discuss their individual management

Int'l Ranchers Roundup Set Aug. 1-5, In San Angelo, Texas

San Angelo - Ranchers from 25 states and several countries are expected here August 1-5 when the 3rd Annual International Ranchers Roundup convenes in this West Texas ranching hub.

Recognized as the largest, most comprehensive educational function ever organized for southwestern ranchers, the IRR will feature general sessions of interest to all ranchers and landowners, plus three days of intensified concurrent sessions in beef cattle, sheep and goats, grazing management, wildlife, marketing, business management for the ranch family, and a computer workshop.

Thus far some 85 ranching experts have been confirmed to speak during the five-day event with about two dozen speakers yet to be selected. Several internationally-known ranch experts are to be on hand for concurrent sessions.

Keynote speakers for the opening day general session include Dub Waldrip, president, National Cattlemen's Association; Hon. Tom Leofler, U.S. Congressman; Cas Maree, prominent South African rancher; and Dr. Arthur G. Hansen, Chancellor of the Texas A&M University System, a key sponsor. Other keynote speakers will be announced upon confirmation.

"Innovative Ranch Management" is the 1983 theme according to IRR coordinators Dr. Larry White, Texas Agricultural Extension Service range specialist, Uvalde; Dr. LeRoy Hermann, District Extension Director and formerly Extension livestock specialist, Uvalde; and Robert H. Kensing, Extension farm management specialist, San Angelo. Eighteen agricultural specialists from across the state serve on the IRR steering committee.

Herrmann and White originated the IRR concept three years ago as a means of providing a comprehensive educational format to aridland ranchers who share common problems. Since its introduction in 1981, the multi-facet program has effectively served over 1,100 ranchers and has been favorably compared with the Texas A&M University animal science curriculum for its variety and quality of instruction.

From the outset the IRR has been held in the border area of Del Rio, Texas, with overwhelming success. Yet, in an effort to make the programs accessible to more ranchers throughout the Southwest, the coordinators opted to move the IRR to the San Angelo Convention Center for the 1983 event which promises to be much larger and more extensive.

Conference participants will have their choice of four separate ranch tours on August 5 featuring West Texas ranches noted for innovative management practices in beef cattle, sheep and goats, grazing systems, plus a two-day overnight wildlife tour in the scenic Texas Hill Country area near Kerrville.

Registered participants will also receive a copy of the 480-page bound IRR proceedings book containing most of the talks presented. This book has proved very useful by ranchers as a handy reference guide by many who have ordered extra copies of both past editions.

Registration information and more program details can be obtained from your County Extension Office or by writing to IRR, P.O. Drawer 1849, Uvalde, TX 78801. Registration forms must be completed and returned with proper payment by July 1 to qualify for the $50 pre-registration discount. Attendance will be limited to 750 participants on a first come-paid basis.

Texas Livestock Receipts Good But Below '81

College Station - Sales of livestock products which totaled some $5.1 billion made up more than half of Texas' agricultural receipts last year.

Total sales of agricultural products are estimated at about $9.8 billion for the state in 1982, says Dr. Carl G. Anderson, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Overall, cash receipts from most animals were down about $800 million from 1981 while dairy product receipts increased a little and poultry and egg receipts dropped $10,000. Cattle and calves sold for $3.8 billion; sheep, $54 million; goats, $11 million; and hogs, $113 million.

Traditionally, Texas ranks first in sales from marketing of cattle and calves, sheep and wool, and goats and mohair, says Anderson.

Cattle and calf marketing brought in the largest total sales of any farm commodity. However, this was some $800 million below 1981. Fed beef had the largest total cash receipts in the Panhandle, almost $684 million. North Central Texas led the market for other types of beef with almost $280 million total cash receipts.

Dairymen, numbering about 2,600, marketed some 12 million pounds of milk daily from an estimated 330,000 cows. Northeast Texas led in sales of milk products and milk cows in the state with total cash receipts of almost $161 million. Total receipts from dairy products stood at $545 million last year, up $4 million from 1981.

Cash receipts from broilers and farm chicks totaled $126 million and $7 million, respectively, in East Texas, the state's leading region.

Turkey receipts were the highest in Central Texas, at $80.4 million. The Coastal Bend area led the state in egg sales, at almost $45 million.

Chicken hen sales at $759,000 were highest in the Upper Coast area, where receipts from honey also led the state at $1.5 million.

Sheep and goat numbers increased slightly after many years of decline. Mohair receipts of $25 million exceeded wool sales of $18 million.

West Central Texas was the leader in cash receipts from sheep and wool with sales at almost $7 million. Southwest Texas led in cash receipts from goats at $7 million and in mohair receipts of $14.5 million.

Hog sales were the highest in South Central Texas at $24.8 million. Texas farmers and ranchers should see some improvement in crop and livestock prices during 1983, believes Anderson. An improving economy should hold domestic consumption of agricultural production, and some improvement in export sales is also expected.
